Workshop Phana, the Right Path

What: Juan and Ivan give a two-day workshop on the Right Path, which is the path of the Yachay. Yachay is a concept from the Inca tradition and is the power of the intellect. In these two days you will learn the most essential techniques and you will receive a powerful tool to deal with yourself, your relationships, your surroundings and nature more smoothly and more harmoniously. It is a very condensed, and at the same time playful course where a strong foundation is laid down in the Andean principles. You will for example learn to distinguish the seven levels of healers, manage the three most important forms of energy in yourself (under all circumstances!), be able to deal with the heavy energy of others, and experience the difference between pure male, pure female energy and what happens when they mix...

For whom: for anyone with an interest in the spiritual and mystical wisdom of the Incas. Suitable for beginners, but also of great value for experts on the Inca path, who have not worked with Juan and Ivan before, and will probably be surprised about their different approach to familiar subjects.

When: Saturday 16 and Sunday 17 March, 10: 00 am – 1:00 pm and from 2:30 - 5: 30 pm

Where: Amsterdam, the exact location will follow

Masterclass Group Bubble Work

What: this Masterclass consists of a theory part that takes place inside and a practice part that takes place outside at a power location. The subject is working with group bubble energy. Anyone who has read the books by Elizabeth Jenkins already has some idea of how the group members can transfer their energy to each other and even increase it with each other. There is only little knowledge and experience with this way of working in the West. A unique opportunity, therefore, to practice the special skills of group bubble work with like-minded people. The power place where we will practice will be one of the six Table Mountains in the Gooi, which were used by the Druids since the Celtic times as offering places for the gods. One of them is the Trapjesberg, where a feminine energy can be felt, and another is the male-feeling Tafelberg, aimed at the main god (comparable to Viracocha).

For whom: for people with considerable experience and knowledge of the Andean Path. Some other names for the Andean Path are: the Path of the Pampamesayoc, Inca Cosmovision, traditional Paqo work, Hatun Karpay and group bubble work. Minimum requirement for the level of this Masterclass: at least two workshops of Juan and Ivan and/or the three big initiations of the Hatun Karpay.

When: 10: 00 am - 5: 30 pm

Where: we meet at the parking lot of De Goede Gooier, at Crailoseweg 151 in Blaricum.

Costs: € 200 ex 6% VAT; incl. tea and coffee, excl. lunch

Healings & initiations

What: a healing is a session of about 1 hour where Juan or Ivan works on restoring the balance in your body and mind. This has a beneficial effect on both healthy and sick people. It is not a panacea to cure severe and chronic diseases, but it will certainly contribute to your recovery. An initiation is a session of approximately 1.5 hours, during which Juan or Ivan performs a sacred ritual of the Andean Path by way of initiation on this path. It is often deeply moving to experience this. In both cases you do not have to do anything yourself, just lie comfortably or sit with your clothes on. Both healings and initiations are not painful or uncomfortable. The most important instrument is special stones that the healer removes from his medicine bag (Mesa or Mischa) and gently places on some places on your body. Healings and initiations can best be compared to a Reiki treatment, in which emotions and energies are balanced in a gentle way. Some people will experience emotions or cry, which is seen as a beautiful and natural way of your body to get into a better balance.

When: on Tuesday, March 19 there is the opportunity to book a private session with Juan or Ivan, and there are also a few spots open in the evening, between 14 and 19 March. But full = full, so be quick.

Where: in Amsterdam, the location will follow

Costs: € 150 cash for a healing, prices for initiations are on request, it is important for us to know which initiations you have already received in this area

More about the grandmasters

Don Juan Nuñez del Prado ..

... is an anthropologist, but more importantly a student of three indigenous Peruvian teachers for thirty years. They gave him their special knowledge of the Andean Path. His most important teacher was Don Benito Q'oriwaman or Wasao, a direct descendant of Huascar Inca, the last Inca king. He is one of the most renowned teachers worldwide in this field. Joan Parisi Wilcox and Elizabeth Jenkins increased his fame in the West by writing books about their encounters with him.

Ivan Nuñez del Prado ...

... is an engineer and Life Coach specialized in Carl Jung. Like his father, Ivan was touched by the old knowledge of the Incas, the Inca religion and their culture. He has been a pupil on the Andean Trail since he was seven years old and has been taught and initiated by various Andean Masters for decades. Since 2005 he has been teaching the Andean Path with his father Juan all over the world.

Testimonials

"My most special meeting last year was with Juan and Ivan Nuñez del Prado. Juan is an old wise man with the eyes of a curious child and the energy of an ancient tree. His son Ivan has a great power for manifestations in the here and now. Their lessons have become very concrete for me. They connect spiritual insights directly with the earthly issues of all day, making it one, inseparable entity."

Bas Janssens Director & CoFounder Great Communicators

"Juan and Ivan are teachers who communicate from the heart and have many years of experience with the wisdom of the Incas. They allow you to experience energetically what this can mean for you. In relation to yourself, to others and to nature and cosmos ... in a practical way, applicable in everyday life. A gift to take with you and apply in your own life."

Ingeborg Herdingh, The Human Effect

"I have already done a lot in the field of personal development and spiritual training, but the workshop of Juan and Ivan was a very welcome addition. I found it profound, practical and loving. I have gained a number of valuable insights and go home with practical exercises."

Joni Bais, entrepreneur

"The ideas of the Inca tradition are invaluable to me. Their belief in abundance, the great respect for the earth that feeds us day in and day out, their knowledge of heavy and light energy, it all has confronted me in a big way with the convictions that I have been brought up with in the "West": like our belief in debt, scarcity, good and evil and treating the earth as a consumer product. Juan is an incredibly well-read man and knows how to make astonishing parallels between all the major world religions. The methods are simple, pragmatic and very accessible. I am sincerely a richer man after 'only' following their two-day first workshop (Phana)."
